

The Oklahoma Farm Bureau Women's Leadership Committee has joined with the Oklahoma Farm Bureau Foundation for Agriculture to provide accurate agriculture books to schools across our state.

In order to be eligible for consideration, a pre-K to eighth-grade teacher from a school can submit an application OR a school librarian can submit an application for books that span multiple grade levels. All books are elementary-age-appropriate.

Applications are due June 10, 2024

The books will be selected by the Women's Leadership sub-committee and will be chosen from the American Farm Bureau Foundation for Agriculture's book database. They will cover various agriculture topics that are appropriate for the grade levels receiving the books. Winners will be contacted for delivery of books.
