

Community Food Assistance Matching Program

Farmers and ranchers across Oklahoma create food, fiber and fuel for people in their communities, and Oklahoma Farm Bureau members understand the importance of giving back to their communities, especially in times of need.

OKFB partners with county Farm Bureaus through the Community Food Assistance Matching Program to help support food security in our local communities through donations to local food banks, food pantries, meals on wheels or other food assistance programs. Whether its going to the local grocery store to purchase food, hosting a food drive or presenting a monetary donation, Farm Bureau members can help provide food security for our rural friends and neighbors.

If you decide to donate food items to your community's food assistance program, reach out to see what items they need most to maximize your donation's impact.

When your county makes a donation, OKFB will match the donation up to $100 and donate to your food assistance program of choice. OKFB will send a separate check to your chosen program.

Share your donations with your field representative before presenting the food or money. Donate by and submit the reimbursement form no later than May 1 to receive OKFB's match.

For more information or questions, contact Rebekah Nash at (405) 523-2300 or rebekah.nash@okfb.org.
